

Additional Information - Opportunity and Eligibility for Fee Awards

Limited fee award opportunities may be offered during application cycles, subject to the availability of funding.

To be eligible for fee awards, researchers must meet the following criteria:

- Applicants for fee awards must include at least one (1) principal investigator (PI) from a New Jersey research institution. Collaboration with a non-New Jersey institution will be considered ONLY if the project leadership and a substantial portion of the project activities rest within the New Jersey institution.
- The research institution complies with the US Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Human Subjects Protection guidelines for human subjects research (i.e., has a Federalwide Assurance Number).
- Students with faculty supervision are eligible to apply.
- Scholars from racial/ethnic minority groups are encouraged to apply.
- Research aims that align with the approved purpose and research priorities of the iPHD.

Applicants from research institutions outside of New Jersey are eligible to apply for iPHD data access, though not fee awards, provided the research aims align with the approved purpose and research priorities of the iPHD.
